manufacturing capacity

Partner with CaridianBCT

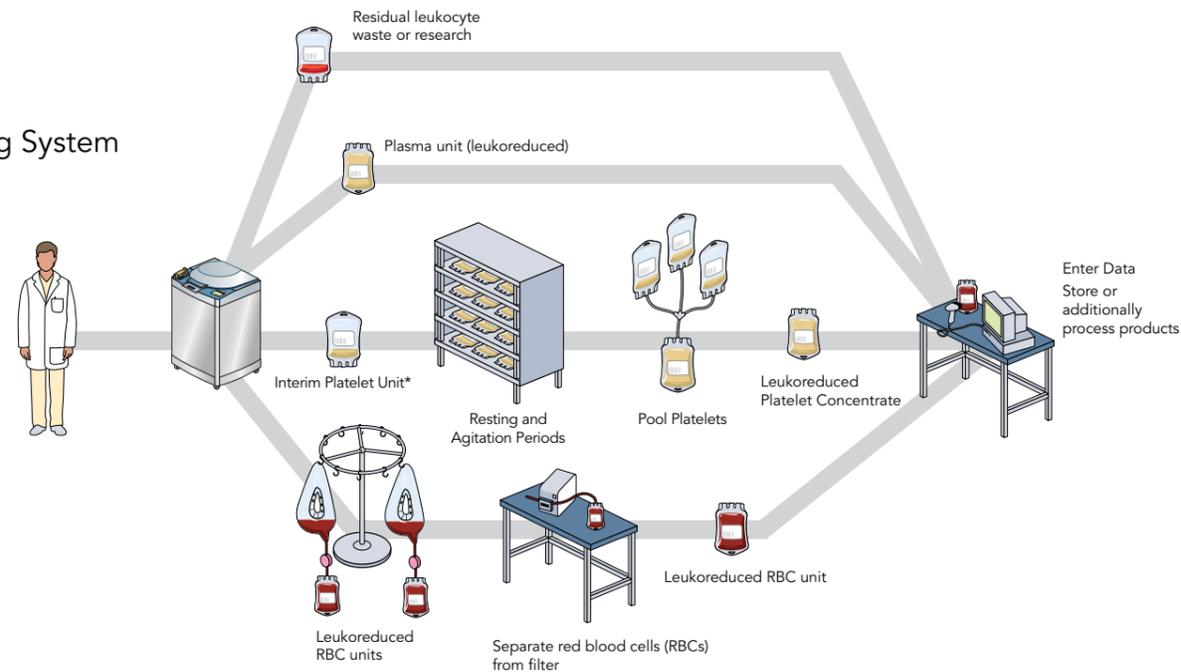

CaridianBCT is bringing automation and informatics to whole blood processing. We offer a strategic partnership to help you become more effective and successful. With the Atreus® Whole Blood Processing System and with understanding your challenges and needs, we can help you:

- ▶ Produce consistently high quality products
- ▶ Streamline business processes
- ▶ Create financial value for you and your stakeholders

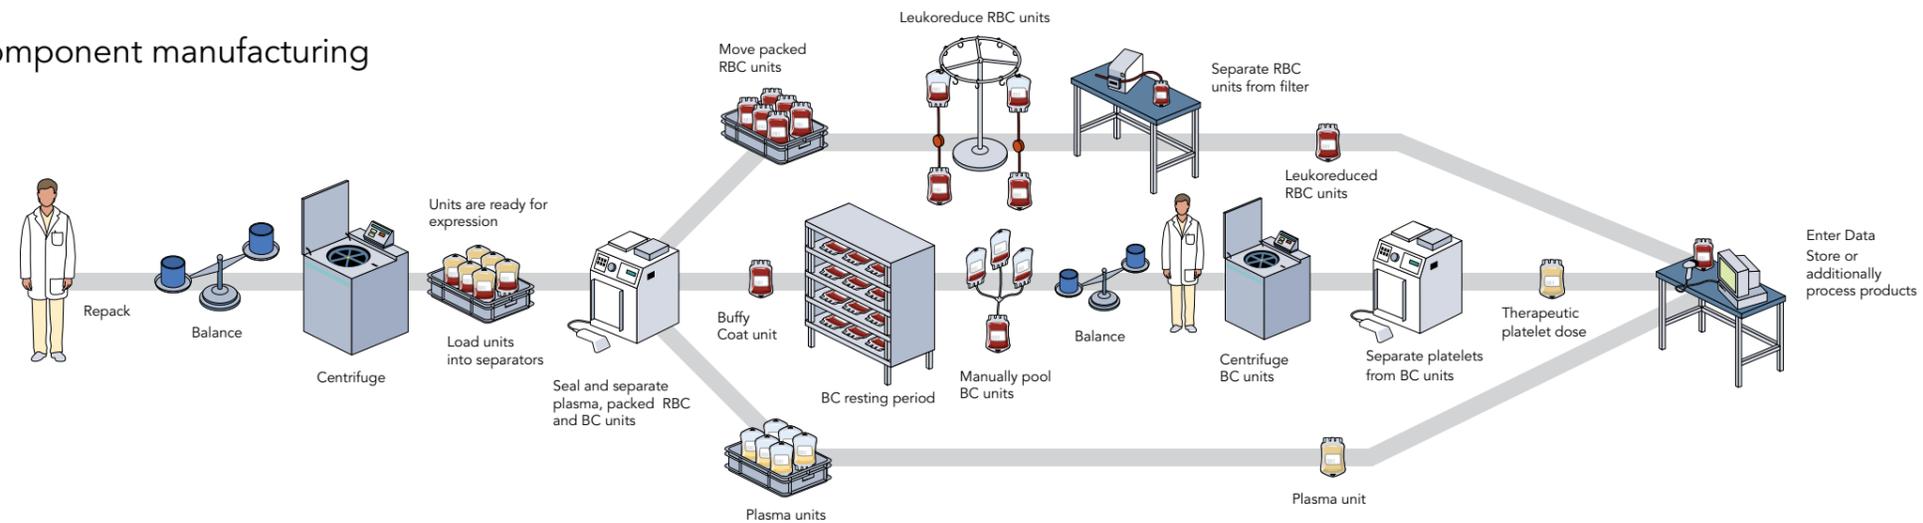

Discover process simplicity

By eliminating manual processes, you can remove variability from whole blood production. The Atreus Whole Blood Processing System with unique capabilities in automation, informatics, and lean manufacturing can help your blood center become more effective and successful.
